Stubborn Grizzlies Hold Diplomats to 12-6 Score

By Garnet Adams '42

Forgetting that they were playing a team that had downed Dartmouth and Richmond University—forgetting the fact that the selectors said they wouldn't even put up a fight—and even forgetting that 600 Ursinus students were guessing on F. and M.'s final score, the Bears of Coach Don Kellett held their highly touted F. and M. opponents to a 12 to 6 score in the annual "Turkey Day" classic.

For the Diplomats it meant the end of a very successful season and for the "Bears" it was a brilliant ending that completely overshadowed a dismal season. The great power of the Diplomats failed to materialize against the fighting band of Grizzlies who were considered down and out before the game had started. Time and time again an Ursinus line that wouldn't give up stopped their opponents in their tracks and during the second quarter halted a Diplomat advance on the 8 yard line.

During the first quarter the play was mostly in Bear territory as a result of poor kicking on the part of the Grizzly backs. At the start of the second quarter Suchena, Diplomat fullback, punted to the Bears 1 yard line. Augustine's kick for Ursinus went out of bounds on his own 36 and here the Diplomats took over. Halfback Kenny took a reverse for nine yards and on the next play the Diplomats speed merchant Johnny Quick carried the ball 27 yards for a touchdown. Here tackle Schibanoff missed his first placement of the season in the try for point.

Dr. McClure's Report Features Fall Meeting Of Board of Trustees

President Norman E. McClure's regular report to the Board of Directors was the feature of the regular Fall meeting of the Board last Tuesday at 10:30 a. m. in the library. Dr. McClure announced an increase of twenty dollars in the comprehensive fee to be effected at the beginning of the next academic year. Extracts of the President's report are quoted below.

"The year ending June 30, 1940, was a year during which Ursinus College was of service to a larger number of students than ever before. We have now entered upon a new academic year with a still larger enrollment—a total of 582. During the last five years there has been a steady, healthy growth. It is important to remember that this growth has been accompanied by no lowering of standards either of admission or of academic work after admission. The present Freshman Class, as measured by the tests prepared by the American Council on Education, is probably the best prepared class ever admitted, and will probably stand well within the highest five per cent of the Freshman classes of the three or four hundred colleges and universities that use these standard tests.

Schonfeld Relates Inside Story of the Nazi Putsch in Europe at I R C Meeting

Thomas Schonfeld '44, late of England and Austria, was the speaker at the regular meeting of the International Relations Club in Shreiner Hall last Tuesday evening. Schonfeld, who lived in Austria until six months after the German "Anschluss", also stayed in England for sixteen months, not coming to the United States until early this year.

He told the club of the political developments which led to the World War, and of the consequences of the peace pact. As a European resident during the stormy days of the "Beer Hall Putsch" and the burning of the German Reichstag he was able to tell the members of some of the inside movements which occurred at that time. He revealed that it is common opinion that the burning of the Reichstag was a deliberate act of the Nazis to furnish themselves with a means to stir up strong feeling against the Leftists.

Taking the situation in Germany at the end of the World War, Schonfeld went on to show how the Nazi Party got its start, how

Dr. Jerome Davis Will Conduct Ursinus Inter-Collegiate Conference Wednesday

Dr. Jerome Davis, whom Julius Bloom, Associate Director of the Brooklyn Institute of Arts and Sciences, describes as "... a current events analyst with the insight of a social philosopher", will conduct an inter-collegiate study hour 4:00-5:00 p. m. in Bomberger Hall and a forum sponsored by the YM-YWCA and the Forum Committee from 7:00-8:00 in the Science Building next Wednesday, December 4. Mr. Davis, who is a well-known author, educator, and interpreter of foreign affairs, is the son of Jerome Dean Davis, founder of the first Christian University in Japan.

When a boy, Dr. Davis travelled in the Orient. In 1915 he was with Dr. Grenfell in Labrador. The following year he had charge of prisoners of war work in Turkestan, and later he was placed in charge of all YWCA war work in Russia. He made a lecture tour of the world in 1935.

The late Senator William E. Borah said of Dr. Davis, "Professor Davis is a distinguished educa-

Howard Gale Will Furnish Music for Ball

The formal social season of the Ursinus College will open this Friday evening at nine o'clock in Thompson-Gay gymnasium. The Senior Ball, cloaked in a setting of a beautiful south sea island, will be chaperoned by Dr. and Mrs. Norman E. McClure, Dean Camilla B. Stahr, Dean Whorten A. Kline Dr. and Mrs. Eugene Miller, and Dr. and Mrs. Charles Mattern. Among the invited guests will be the entire faculty of Ursinus College.

Pre-dance sales are expected to run high both among the student body and the active alumni, who are anxious to hear again the smooth music of Howard Gale and his orchestra.

The committee of nine members headed by Charles Bowen, together with the members of the class and class officers have gone to no end of trouble and expense to create the most spectacular Senior Ball yet produced on this campus.

Under the able supervision of Mr. Frederick Lynch plans are under way for the transformation of the gym into a picture of thatched huts on the sandy shore glistening in the silvery reflection of the moon on the water, a picture not to be soon forgotten.

TO THE BULL-SESSION GRIPERS:

There exists among the student body of Ursinus College an established institution commonly referred to as "gripping". Whether or not this gripping is a result of the past-World War generation of disillusionment is not the point in question. Whether or not the gripping is justified is the point which we intend to discuss.

To facilitate comparisons, it is best to reduce gripping from a generality to a specific point; namely, the dining room. Now we are all willing to admit there are two sides to every question. In this case there is the viewpoint of the students, and the viewpoint of the dining room administration.

As far as the administration is concerned, we have the service which may be good, bad, or indifferent, including the extremes of fast and slow. We are served food in sufficient quantities to sustain the fundamental biological processes.

On the other hand, service is impeded in the dining room by the regular Monday night ritual and the customary latecomers. Then there is also the childish pastimes of water and napkin throwing. Also the kitchen can complain about the regularity of the criticism, and the lack of constructive suggestion.

The improvements in the dining room since last year in the form of paint and Venetian blinds were very welcome. This is true also of the music enjoyed for such a period, and which has been for some time conspicuous by its absence.

We think that these observations illustrate the fact that constructive gripping may be justified, with the reservation that it be followed by action. Neither should gripping be personalized or on general principles. If improvement is desired in the form of music in the dining room, for example, students should openly insist upon it, and not resort to the bull-session approach.

The Commentator

THE LONE EAGLE . . . A LONE VOICE

In 1927 a quiet, unassuming young American landed his plane in Paris after a hazardous trans-Atlantic crossing and handed a letter of introduction to the airport officials there. His real simplicity, bashful smile, and awkward manners endeared the Lone Eagle to admiring millions on the continent and in America. Everywhere he was heralded as the spirit of American youth, and his unimpeachable conduct made him truly an 'ambassador of good will' at a time when the blustering braggado of American tourists was creating a misconception of America abroad.

The world little realized at the time how fitting an appellation it had bestowed upon its popular hero. The intervening years have been full of sorrow and disappointment for the Lone Eagle. Tragedy has hounded his footsteps and quirks of fate have denied him the right to live a normal happy life. Bitter days and frustration of hope lie behind, but now omens point to an even more ominous and foreboding future. "Uneasy rests the head that wears a crown."

It was courage that plummeted Lindbergh to fame thirteen years ago. Today that same courage which men once acclaimed is leading to the defamation of his name and the besmirching of his character. Yet the man remains steadfast in purpose. Plaudits and the lure of white lights could not deviate him from his adopted course then, and it is doubtful whether derision and abuse can now deter him from serving his country again.

Because he has been quite candid in his appraisal of Nazi military efficiency, because he has not been backward in pointing to the various inadequacies in the Allied pre-war preparations, because he scoffs at the danger of immediate Nazi invasion of America, because he refuses to accept the credo of the majority who believe that British and American interests must be mixed together, the Lone Eagle has been shamelessly slandered. The truth often hurts. It takes foolhardy courage to dare to proclaim the truth in the totalitarian states, for the truth for their subjects is what the dictators say it is, it should not be so in America.

Here we profess a belief in the free expression of opinion and unprejudiced intelligent debate as the truth-finding process. Yet in democratic America people in high positions—yes, even in the President's cabinet—have resorted to totalitarian tactics in their attempt at squelching the free expression of a fellow American. Instead of refuting Lindbergh's contentions by demonstrating their fallacies and illogic, professional mud-slingers have attempted to vilify his character by alluding to him as a coward, a pacifist, a Nazi, and a fifth columnist. He has been called a traitor to his country. If it be treason to state one's views on any subject openly, candidly, and fearlessly (whether they be the views of the majority or not), then our democracy is a mirage.

The measurement of patriotism in democracy is not the readiness with which an individual accepts a popular view without reservation. This is no time to become fanatical in false patriotism. It was Voltaire who so aptly said, "I detest what you say, but I shall defend to the death your right to say it".

Bears Hold F and M to 12-6 on "Turkey Day"

At the start of the second half the Diplomats completely ruled the situation and charged 57 yards down the field to score their second 6-pointer with Sophomore Munro carrying the ball over. Schibanoff missed number 2 try for point and F. and M. stood twelve points ahead of the Bears with only a few minutes of the second half gone by.

Here the scene changed very suddenly. The Bears decided to kick back a little harder and from that time on until the game's end they mastered the situation completely. In fact, the ball was in Diplomat territory so much in the last period that the Bears had three scoring opportunities in the last period alone. The score finally came on a terrific aerial onslaught that netted over fifty yards with Augustine doing the passing to MacKenzie and Glass. The touchdown was scored on a pass to MacKenzie in the end zone during the last minute of play.

The entire line-up of the Bears performed in great style and must be given credit for the fight they showed in coming back to hold such a strong opponent. "Hank" Schuster, veteran lineman for line Coach Pete Stevens covered himself in glory by checking his widely noted opponent Schibanoff throughout the entire game, while "Captain" Zeski and Paul Augustine also turned in stellar performances in this the last game of the year.

Seniors "Jim" Armstrong, "Max" Zeski, "Vic" Troxell and "Ripper" McConnell finished up their collegiate career in this game by turning in excellent performances for their mentor Don Kellett.

SLANTS OF THE GAME

"Albie" Tkacz ended a great season when he was carried out of the fray in the second quarter of the game with a twisted knee.

Johnny Quick was almost as fast as his name when he made his 37 yard scamper for the first score. Nary a Bears paw touched him in his sprint to the goal.

Even "Alex" Schibanoff, the Little All-American tackle of F. and M. who has not missed a conversion all year was not very successful against the Bears in that department. He missed two in two chances.

The commentator who was announcing the game over the Lancaster station had the Bears pulling Cornell's famed trick of a "5th down" touchdown. In this case, however, the announcer was at fault. (P.S. "Red" Friesell was not the referee.)

WRITER'S NOTE—I'll bet you, too, thought columnist D. D. was crazy when he picked Ursinus over their famed opponents.

G-burg Picks Four Bears; All-Pa. Names Five For Honorable Mention

END JOE INGHAM

As a reward for his brilliant playing in the Gettysburg game, Joe was placed on the all-conference team as selected by Gettysburg.

State Mentions Three Juniors and Two Sophomores

Although Ursinus failed to place a single man on the 1940 Associated Press All-Pennsylvania first three football teams, five of the Bear gridders received honorable mention in this annual poll made by the prominent coaches and sports scribes of the state.

Dan McGowen, sophomore center and line backer, Bill Selfridge, junior guard who has developed rapidly this season, Nick Biscotte, veteran end and placement kicker, Paul Augustine, triple-threat back, and Al Tkacz, the watch-charm back who has been the driving force in the Ursinus attack, were honored by the selectors.

Perry Scout, Muhlenberg's star end, Alex Schibanoff, one of the best tackles to ever wear the livery of F. and M., and Bill Collins, veteran Lafayette tackle, were chosen on the first team. Second string selections included John Plewak, Bucknell guard, Stan Holmes, F. and M. wingman, and Sammy Moyer and Walt Zirinsky, backs on Lafayette's unbeaten team. Morris Bessel, Bison linesman, and Johnny Quick, Diplomat halfback, placed on the third team.

Selfridge, Augustine and Morrow on Gettysburg Seconds

Four Ursinus players were picked on the annual All-Conference football team, composed by the Gettysburgian Sports Staff. Franklin and Marshall and Muhlenberg dominated the poll for the first team, each receiving four places. Gettysburg copped two places to one for Ursinus, while downtrodden Drexel failed to place a man on the first team.

Big "Joe" Ingham, flashly sophomore from Audubon, New Jersey, was unanimously chosen by the Gettysburg sport scribes to a first team berth, while Bill Selfridge, Paul Augustine, and "Ev" Morrow were awarded second team positions.

This team is selected from the five teams which compose the Eastern Pennsylvania Collegiate Conference: Gettysburg, Drexel, Muhlenberg, Ursinus, and Franklin and Marshall. The ratings are based on play against Gettysburg, and also by the Gettysburg players who give their opinions as to who has shown the best play and sportsmanship against them.

The All-Conference team is composed of Rieber, Franklin and Marshall, and Ingham, of Ursinus at the ends. As you recall, it was Joe Ingham, who was the main threat against the Bullets, blocking two kicks and running one of them 25 yards for our lone touchdown in the Old Timers' classic. The two tackles are Alex Schibanoff, Franklin and Marshall, and Scott of Muhlenberg. Incidentally, Schibanoff has a record of 31 consecutive points from placement, and it was also he who played a big part in their upset triumph over Dartmouth early in the season.

The two guards are Muhlenberg's Joe Metzger, a great defensive man, and "Ox" Emanuel of Gettysburg. The center berth was landed by Franklin and Marshall's Bigler Irvin, whose backing up the line made him one of the conferences outstanding men.

The backfield is composed entirely of sophomores. Gorgone and Bossick, the touchdown twins of Muhlenberg, Quick of Franklin and Marshall, and Hart of Gettysburg. Each is a triple threat back.

JOE IRVIN'S ALL-AMERICANS

Joe Irvin, Ursinus' star fullback and speedy track man, has consented to select this year the official Weekly All-American football team. After several months of countless comparisons, conferences, and computation of volumes of statistics, this pigskin expert releases his 1940 All-Star lineup:

 Center—The Spirit
 Right Guard—Capt. Midnight, c.
 Right Tackle—Brick Bradford
 Right End—Mr. Mystic
 Quarterback—Dick Tracy
 Right Halfback—Mandrake
 Fullback—Tarzan

Supplementary officials include:
 Head Coach—Donald Duck
 Line Coach—Casper Milquetoast
 Trainer—Knobby
 Publicity Man—Major Hoople
 Cheerleaders—Dale Arden, Joy Beaverduck, and Lady Luck

Soccer Squads Close Year, View Hopefully 1941 Season's Play

The Jayvee and Varsity soccer squads have hung up their mud-venered, cleated shoes; the last goal has been scored; and the 1940 season has been permanently recorded in athletic annals of Ursinus. But the entire team, with the exception of five seniors who will return to Ursinus for the alumni game next year, is looking forward to a grand and glorious 1941.

Although the Varsity only won two decisions and their little brothers eeked out a lone victory, a majority of the losses told of a team that continually threatened, but was unable to score.

Doc Baker will miss the services of Felix Karpinski, Joe Harrison, Danny Hartline, Dick Hartranft, and manager Joe Dubuque.

When asked about prospects for '41, he replied, "The whole team will be red hot". With the all-around play of John Cornely; the defensive work of fullback Dick Arnold; and the smart passing of Morningstar, McCausland, and Buddy Adams; together with Graver, Cooke, and Brick, other varsity holdovers, the only problem is the goalie, which position is wide open at the present time.

Ursinus, Temple Battle to 2-2 Score; Caulfield Proves Match for McConaghie

Besides deadlocking a highly-rated Temple eleven 2-2 last Monday at Collegeville, the Ursinus co-eds checked almost completely the offensive play of Anna McConaghie, All-American left inner, and the Cherry and White forward line.

With outstanding work on the part of right full back Helen Caulfield, the home defense held Temple's hockeyists in their own territory, opening the play and breaking up a smooth passing attack. Goalie Mary Robbins and Captain Blanche Schultz, right wing, both seniors, played brilliantly in their last game.

Ursinus tallied first, when Jeanne Mathieu took advantage of a penalty corner, scoring with one hard drive. Later in the first period, after a long scrimmage in the striking circle, Temple managed to flick the ball into the cage, tying the count at 1-1. Soon after halftime, the Bearettes took another one-point lead by drawing Temple's goalie out of her post and passing her off guard. Anna McConaghie accounted for the visitors' second marker, after she dribbled down fifty yards of open field. Ursinus threatened several times before the final whistle but could not pass the Temple backfield.

In the Jayvee game, Ursinus battled the Temple girls to a scoreless tie.

Max Zeski covered himself with glory on Thursday, his 24th birthday. Gosh! The Army better draft him soon, or he'll be overage.

Speaking of the army, Mike Kenny, F. and M. wingback, is a licensed airplane pilot and expects to join the air corps in June.

Deer season opened today, but for the dateless gridders it started last Thursday about 5:00 p. m.

Alex Schibanoff is sweet on pro-football, and already has offers from the Philly Eagles and New York Giants. The big tackle figures it's more profitable to play for coffee and doughnuts than good wishes.

Don Kellett was the chief speaker at a high school pep rally in Royersford last week, but his words went unheeded, for Spring City won, 3-0.

Anne McConaghie, Temple's All-American hockeyist, roused her opponent's ire by asking Helen Caulfield if she would make the game interesting. From the score, we'd say that Coffey did her best.

Ronald Kickline, former Ursinus coach and at present a popular official, was burned up several weeks ago when the program listed him as "Kickline of Erskine". Incidentally Kick is one of the College's most loyal alumni and attends quite a few scrimmages of the football team every season.

The Dean drafted his team, but he was quite decent about the whole thing, forgetting to select most of Hash's passers.

Wheaton College has a soccer team that'd do credit to the League of Nations. The lineup includes two men from China, two from Korea, and one each from Japan, India, and Mexico.

- Intramurals -

The intramural badminton tournament will be postponed until early spring because the gym will be occupied by "basketballers" at practically all hours of the day and night.

The intramural volley ball and basketball teams will soon be organized, and 'tis rumored that the faculty, under the leadership of "Sieb" Pancoast, will have a real (?) team. Remember the exhibitions of Kellett, Tadley, and Stevens last year?

BOARD

"During the past year the special committee, composed of Dr. Brooks, Dr. Fretz, Mrs. Johnson, Dr. Pfahler, with Dr. Niblo as chairman, has made encouraging progress toward obtaining funds for the erection of the long-needed group of women's residence halls. We have on hand about $35,000 for the erection of these buildings, of which more than $10,000 has been the gift of the Board of Directors during the past year or two, and about $20,000 additional has been promised. When Dr. Beardwood's bequest is received, we shall have in all some $100,000, a sum sufficient to cover the cost of perhaps three of the six buildings that are planned. I hope the next year or two will enable us to move rapidly toward the goal that is now much nearer than ever before.
"Although the total productive endowment has increased steadily during the past few years, the total income from this source during the same period has steadily decreased. The income derived from the Patterson Fund of $150,000, a fund managed by the Northern Trust Company of Philadelphia, declined from $6,200 to $3,100 during the past fiscal year. The income derived from the Housekeeper Fund of $50,000, managed by the Norristown-Penn Trust Company, declined from $1,800 to $1,300 during the same period. This unfortunate condition is, of course, nationwide, and it is probable that the trend will continue. Because of these steady declines in return from endowment funds, we have sought, as you know, to keep the cost of operation and maintenance at the lowest reasonable levels. Despite all the economies that we have

Debaters Prep for Season
In Intra-Squad Practice

The Webster Forensic Society opened the debating season by staging an intramural debate before the regular meeting of the club last Monday evening. The question was: "Resolved: that a permanent union should immediately be formed between the United States and the British Commonwealth of Nations." Robert Luginbuhl '42, and Elwood Heller '43, supported the affirmative, while Garfield Clark '43, and Robert Ihrie '44, supported the negative. Following the debate the floor was thrown open to discussion of the question.

Coed Debaters Discuss the Role of Women in Wartime

Woman's place in the war was the topic considered by the Women's Debating Club on Monday evening, November 25, at Maples Hall.
Mary Robbins '41, program chairman introduced the subject and Mary Anna Wiley '43, offered several alternatives in the problem.
Joyce Lowmes '42, manager of women's debating announced the following debates: December 4, Albright; December 9, Penn State; and December 11, Temple.

been able to effect, it has now become necessary to require the student to pay a larger portion of the cost of what he receives than he has heretofore been required to pay. An increase of $20.00 per year in the comprehensive fee, as recommended by the Committee on Finance, will probably be necessary until such time as our income from endowment and the permanent funds becomes considerably larger."
